

World Trade Center 9.11 Health Program About the Program

The World Trade Center (WTC) Health Program is a limited federal health care program that provides medical monitoring and treatment for conditions that are certified as related to a member's exposure on 9/11. Members include responders and survivors of the 9/11 attacks in New York, at the Pentagon, and in Shanksville, PA.

THE WORK CONTINUES:

With over 400,000 people estimated to be affected by 9/11, the WTC Health Program is dedicated to reaching all who are eligible for coverage.

WTC Health Program by the Numbers

More than
127,000
Members currently enrolled

More than 81,000
Current members with a certified condition

What we do:

The Program provides health care benefits for conditions verified to be related to exposure on, or in the weeks and months after, 9/11. These conditions are known as "certified WTC-related health conditions." Benefits include:

Pharmacy

Medical Monitoring and Treatment

Mental Health Care

AND MORE!

Where you get care:

This care is provided through a large network of Clinical Centers of Excellence (CCE) in the New York (NY) metropolitan area and through a Nationwide Provider Network (NPN) across the country.

CCE

If you live in the New York metropolitan area, you will be assigned to a CCE.

NPN

Members who live outside the NY metropolitan area can see participating in-network providers for their WTC-related health care across the country.

Who we serve:

Survivor

Lived, worked, or went to school or daycare in the NYC Disaster Area, or were present in the dust or dust cloud during or following 9/11.

Responder

Responded to, worked, or volunteered in the response and recovery of 9/11.

Types of Responders

How do I join?

If you are eligible, you can apply to the Program by mail or online. Applications and application instructions are available at cdc.gov/wtc/apply.html

In order to enroll as either a Survivor or a Responder, you need to meet certain eligibility criteria.

Learn more about the World Trade Center Health Program at cdc.gov/wtc/aboutus.html

All statistics are valid as of 06/2024.