Walter Surface Technologies-Allegro Industries Notification

Walter Surface Technologies acquired ArcOne in February 2020 and Allegro Industries in January 2022. Since the acquisition, efforts have been made to align the business and product range.

The intention of Walter during 2026 is to transfer the active ArcOne approvals issued by NIOSH to Allegro. During and post transition, the ArcOne approvals will remain valid, and the products approved to be used. This will be reflected in the NIOSH Certified Equipment List (CEL).

The approval labels, abbreviated approval labels, packaging, user instructions and other documentation will reflect the "Walter" brand. The ARC approval numbers will remain the same and all the approvals will be available under Walter Surface Technologies(ALL) in the NIOSH Certified Equipment List.

Sincerely,

Philip Laforest
