

NALOXONE
CAN REVERSE
OPIOID OVER DOSE

Naloxone is a life-saving medication that can reverse the effects of an overdose from opioids, including heroin and fentanyl. It's often given as a nasal spray. Naloxone is easy to use and small enough to fit into your pocket or a small bag.

You can get naloxone in most states without a prescription. Ask your pharmacist about naloxone or check with your local or state health department to find out if naloxone is available for free or at a discount.

Learn more about how naloxone can save lives at CDC.GOV/STOPOVERDOSE/NALOXONE.

