

Are at-home tests available for respiratory virus infections?

Yes, tests are available for COVID-19, flu, or both. Results can help guide your next steps.

If you test positive, talk to your doctor, especially if you are high risk for serious illness and could benefit from treatment.

Learn more at:

