

World Trade Center 9.11 Health Program Responder Eligibility

The World Trade Center (WTC) Health Program provides medical monitoring and treatment to eligible responders who were affected by 9/11. See the checkboxes below to find out if you may be eligible to apply.

Over
83,000
WTC Responders are currently enrolled and are eligible to receive benefits

Check the boxes that describe your 9/11 experience:

Did you volunteer or participate in any rescue and recovery efforts during or in the months after 9/11, such as:

- Rescue, recovery, restoration, debris cleanup, or other related services?
- First Responder or uniformed service member?
- Site security?
- Administrative support of response services?
- Direct aid to responders (for example, handing out water bottles)?
- Media occupations?
- Medical Examiner's Office work where you handled human remains or dust covered body bags?

Were you performing rescue and recovery efforts at any of the following 9/11 response sites?

- In New York City at (see back for map):
 - Lower Manhattan (south of Canal Street)
 - Ground Zero (former WTC site)
 - Staten Island Landfill
 - PATH Tunnel
 - Certain Barge Loading Piers
 - NYC Chief Medical Examiner's Office
- Pentagon
- Shanksville, PA crash site

Did you perform rescue and recovery efforts during the following time periods*:

- At any of the former WTC sites between September 11, 2001, and July 31, 2002?
- At the Pentagon site during the period between September 11 and November 19, 2001?
- At the Shanksville, PA site during the period between September 11 and October 3, 2001?

* Minimum hour requirements vary

If you checked any box above, you may be eligible to apply.

If you were in the area but do not think you qualify based on these criteria, you may still be eligible to apply as a Survivor.
